No Solution Comes In Auto Industry Dispute on Wages

General Motors, Chrysler and Ford Blasted by Unions; Strike Might Develop

Detroit, Nov. 16 (AP)—The automobile industry and the C.I.O. Auto Workers Union appeared no nearer to a peaceful solution of the wage problem today as further peace feelers stood rejected and sharp verbal blasts were hurled by both sides.

In fact the simultaneous entry of all the "Big Three" car companies into the dispute only served to emphasize the difference between them and the union on the latter's 30 per cent wage increase demands.

This was the picture as two of the "Big Three"—General Motors and Chrysler—continued negotiations with the U.A.W.-C.I.O. after a day filled with wage discussions, press conferences and formal statements.

General Motors' latest offer, a general 10 per cent increase above current levels for all hourly-rated employees, was turned down by the union as a "streamlined approach to inflation."

Chrysler Corp. was accused by a union leader of being "hell-bent" towards destroying genuine collective bargaining relations. The charge followed Chrysler's request to discharge "or otherwise discipline" workers taking part in unauthorized work stoppages.

The Ford Motor Company's statement demanding no-strike guarantees and increased productivity by union workers was assailed by the union as a "union-busting and strife-provoking document."

Whether these developments would lead to a strike in the near future remains to be seen.

While reiterating his assertion that no work stoppage would be called until all efforts at peaceful settlement had failed, Walter P. Reuther, U.A.W.-C.I.O. vice president, commented it would be "unrealistic not to prepare for any possible developments."

Reuther's remark was prompted by a newsman's question about reports that General Motors local at Flint already have completed negotiations for a strike.

G.M. said its 10 per cent pay offer was made after a review of thousands of wage classifications to effect in its plants.

Coupled with the proposal was a statement that 45 to 48-hour work weeks would be put into effect in all the corporation's plants to meet "the great current demand for our cars."

This, the statement said, would help maintain "take-home" pay at wartime levels.

A General Motors spokesman added that if the final adjustment permitted by the government's formula, including the cost-of-living rise, proves greater than the 10 per cent, the wage rates would be increased by the larger amount.

The corporation proposal—its third since negotiations began—would lead to inflationary prices, the first proposal was for a 45-hour work week and six to eight per cent wage increase and the second offered a cost of living increase averaging eight to 10 per cent.

Eisenhower Says Another Emergency Might Come Unless Power Is Retained

General Gives as His Belief We Should Unify Our Armed Services and Peace Bought So Dear by Americans

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—General Eisenhower said today that, unless the armed services are placed under a unified command "we may enter another emergency, in a time to come, as we did at Pearl Harbor."

The European theatre commander told the Senate Military Committee in prepared testimony that "this nation must preserve a balanced, adequate measure of our land, sea and air power lest we lose the peace we have so dearly bought."

In World War II, he said, the United States had to achieve the change from joint to unified command "the hard way." He added: "I know that our efforts would have met with failure without unity of direction. No system of joint command could possibly have brought victory to our cause."

While Eisenhower testified, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific Fleet, was in Washington for a naval conference. His presence led to speculation the Navy—bitterly opposed to merging the armed forces—might try to counter the general of the Army's testimony with that of the fleet admiral.

The Navy made no announcement and committee members said only that they would be glad to hear Nimitz if he wished to be a witness.

Eisenhower said unity of land, sea and air forces under his command "was not easily achieved." He added that he thought the "difficulties grew directly from the traditional separation of the Army and Navy which is the inevitable outcome of the present organization of our military departments."

"Separation at the top necessarily fosters separation all along the line," he said.

Replying to what he said were criticisms of the unification proposal Eisenhower went on: "I am told that the task of the civilian secretary, who would preside over such a department, is beyond the capacity of any man. If this was true, then it follows that no man has the capacity to assume the 'presidency' of the United States."

As to statements that creation of a single department would subordinate one service to another, he commented that the result in Africa and Europe "proved such fears to be groundless."

To arguments that Germany had a single military department and returned as first lieutenant.

Army Captain Is Injured Badly in Esopus Accident

Robert J. Cook, Wellsville, Is in Benedictine; He Was on Way to West Park at Time

Capt. Robert J. Cook, 24, of Wellsville, was severely injured early this morning when his car ran off the road near the Mott cold storage plant at Esopus, struck a couple of apple trees and finally came to rest badly wrecked against a tree. Capt. Cook, who was with the Third Armored Division, First Army, was taken to the Benedictine Hospital by the W. N. Conner Ambulance Service where his condition later today was reported as fair. He suffered lacerations, possible skull fracture and internal injuries.

According to information secured by the Troopers, Captain Cook served in Europe and wears three battle stars and was twice awarded the Purple Heart. He was apparently en route to West Park at the time of the accident where his mother, Mrs. Ray Cook, and her daughter were visiting a brother who is at the Holy Cross Seminary. How long Capt. Cook had been in the wrecked car is not known. He was discovered at about 3:25 this morning by a passing truck driver. At the time the truckman found him Capt. Cook was unconscious in the car.

Apparently Capt. Cook fell asleep at the wheel of the car and the car failed to make a curve, ran off the road and into the orchard along the road. He was alone in the car.

Child Suffocates From Milk Curds

Infant Girl, 6 Weeks Old, Dies in Crib; Funeral in City

Nicola, six weeks old daughter of Donald and Christobel Murphy Gemmel of 174 Mansion street, Poughkeepsie, was found dead in her crib on Thursday afternoon by her parents. The child was rushed to the St. Francis hospital where the medical examiner diagnosed death as due to asphyxia from asperates of milk curds.

The body was brought to this city and funeral services held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of John Bolt, 9 Andrew street, with burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Gemmel is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. D. J. Murphy of Andrew street.

Thursday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gemmel left the house on an errand, leaving the child in the home of Mrs. William M. Gemmel, the grandmother of the child, at whose home the Gemmels were staying.

The baby was left lying in its crib, and according to the medical examiner curds from the milk the baby had, had lodged in the throat choking the child to death.

The Gemmels have another child, a boy three years old. The father was recently discharged from the army after seeing service in the European theatre of operations with the Air Force. He is credited with 21 missions over Germany. He enlisted as a private and returned as first lieutenant.

Would Call Tojo

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.) suggested today that the congressional committee investigating Pearl Harbor summon some Japanese witnesses. "Let's call Tojo," Gearhart said to reporters. "He'd be glad to testify." Illingworth, as premier, ordered the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor—for which he is awaiting trial as a war criminal. What prompted Gearhart's remark, he explained, was that Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis and Col. Bernard Thelen, first witnesses in the inquiry, "weren't even there."

Predicts 1950 Service

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Looking ahead to 1950, Ralph S. Davon, president of American Airlines, predicts that more than 1,000 cities within the United States will be served by airlines compared with 270 before the war. Davon told the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce last night that the expansion would mean 100,000 miles of flying routes compared with 44,000 miles in 1941.

Negotiations Are Begun

Stockholm, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Soviet and Finnish governments have opened negotiations at Helsinki on Finland's request for a two-year extension for payment of $300,000,000 in war reparations to the Russians. A promise to extend the time for payment from six to eight years was reportedly given to a Finnish group which visited Generalissimo Stalin five weeks ago.

De Gaulle Will Resign

Paris, Nov. 16 (AP)—Gen. de Gaulle's office announced today he had decided to resign as interim president of France because of a deadlock with Communists over formation of a government, but frantic negotiations in the capital indicated a last minute effort was being made to prevent the general's retirement.

Russians Must Make Next Move To Decide Atomic Control Plan

Immediate Future Is Viewed as Critical; Is Severe Test for Cooperation

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Russia holds the key today to success or failure of the Anglo-American atomic control program. American officials say the next move is up to Moscow.

Hence the immediate future is viewed as an extremely critical period by those who regard the existence of the atomic bomb as probably the foremost problem of diplomacy in the world.

During this period the ability of the great powers to work together in the United Nations for the prevention of war is bound to undergo a severe test. The outcome of the test may well determine whether the United Nations will be a strong and effective organization in the years ahead.

This in turn may have much to do with whether the world wakes up some morning to find itself in an atomic war with several of its major cities already blasted out of existence.

President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee of Britain and Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada laid the groundwork for the test yesterday with their proposal that the United Nations organization create a special commission on atomic energy.

Russia's reaction may either be made known quickly or withheld until the United Nations holds its organization meeting at London during the first week in January.

Issue Will Come to Head

That is where the issue will have to come to a head.

Meanwhile, the world probably will learn something more about American thinking on the subject tonight from Secretary of State Byrnes. The State Department head said he would devote part of his speech to the three-power declaration when he appears at a testimonial dinner in Charleston, S. C.

The job for the United Nations presumably will be proposed formally by the United States as soon as the security council is organized.

While no details have been disclosed officially, it is expected by officials here that the proposed atomic commission will be set up under the security council and that it will include as members America, Britain, Russia, France and China. Those are the five permanent members of the council.

The commission's job will be to make recommendations for a step-by-step exchange of scientific information, including atomic energy data, and for creation of controls for atomic energy uses. The problem, involving all member countries, is one for the United Nations, but there is little expectation here that the United Nations can solve it unless Russia cooperates to the hilt.

However, in their uncertainty about Russia's reaction United States officials appear reasonably optimistic. They regard the joint offer of the President and Prime Ministers yesterday as a "generous" one in view of the Anglo-American investment of effort and the American investment of money ($2,000,000,000—in the atomic bomb project).

In some respects the offer may be summed up as a willingness on the part of the leaders of United States and Britain to trade what they know about atomic force—right down to the last detail of industrial know-how—in return for a drastic Russian cut in secrecy. Mainly they ask the Russians to share and share alike on all sorts of basic information either immediately or through the United Nations later on and to agree to a revolutionary system of inspection of all atomic installations in all countries.

Bulgarian Appeals Are Tense

Political Campaign Is Reported Moving Toward Climax; Atmosphere Is Called Explosive

Sofia, Nov. 16 (AP)—The turbulent Bulgarian political campaign moved toward its climax in an atmosphere of explosive tension today, with the Fatherland front and opposition groups making last-minute appeals for support in the National Assembly election which will be held Sunday.

Thousands of election posters bearing caricatures were plastered upon walls, newspapers were filled with charges and counter-charges, and both sides ordered their followers out for a final house-to-house campaign.

Opposition groups were appealing for Bulgarians to abstain from voting in protest against the single Fatherland front slate. Fatherland front supporters fought to win an overwhelming popular endorsement for the government slate.

Anti-government leaders such as Nikolai Petkov charged that the Fatherland front has been taken over by Communists.

Communist Leader Georgi Dimitroff replied this week that the election results would strengthen the Fatherland front and pave the way for the other groups to be taken into the government in order to broaden its base. Dimitroff admitted the government had made some errors but said they were being corrected.

Opposition charges that "after the election Bulgaria will be included in the Soviet Union" are nonsense, Dimitroff declared. He called reports that he would be made president of the new Bulgarian republic "stupid gossip."

Escort Order Was Issued Nov. 25, '41 by Stark; Says People Had Part in Attack

Pensacola Used

Heavy Cruiser Took Eight Vessels West Bound

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—Republicans today raised the question whether the American cruiser Boise sighted at sea the Japanese force which attacked Pearl Harbor but failed to report it because of orders for "radio silence."

Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.), member of the Senate-House committee investigating the disaster, asked that Rear Admiral T. B. Inglis, a Navy witness, investigate to determine "whether the officers and crew of the Boise sighted the attacking Japanese fleet during the first week of December."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) asked that Inglis supply the committee with the complete record of the Boise's movements in the period immediately prior to the December 7, 1941, attack.

Inglis agreed to both requests.

Gearhart, in response to a reporter's question after the committee hearing recessed, said he had received information that the Boise did see the Japanese force.

"My information is that there was a fight about the Boise over whether they should break orders for radio silence and report it and the captain decided they should not," he added.

Gearhart said that later in the hearings he expected witnesses to be presented who would tell the Boise story.

The Boise angle was brought up after Democrats and Republicans clashed vigorously over procedure during the second day of testimony which brought these other developments:

Disclosure that the Navy had ordered the conveying of merchant vessels in the Pacific 12 days before the Japanese attack.

A suggestion by Gearhart that Gen. Douglas MacArthur had been ordered in the Philippines not to fire on the Japanese until they fired first.

A further suggestion by Gearhart that it was "strangely significant" that radar on the Hawaiian island of Oahu had been ordered shut down at 7 a. m., an hour he said was recognized as the most propitious for attack.

Ingils Gives Testimony

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Navy ordered the conveying of merchant shipping in the Pacific 12 days before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, a Senate-House inquiry committee learned today.

Admiral T. B. Inglis put into the record of the disaster investigation a copy of an order issued November 25, 1941, by Admiral Harold E. Stark, then chief of naval operations.

Stark instructed naval officers at San Francisco to route all merchant shipping on a southern route and to "provide necessary escort."

Inglis testified copies of the order went to Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, commander-in-chief of the fleet at Pearl Harbor, and others.

In a series of rapid-fire questions, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) established that at least two convoys were on the Pacific in the week before the Japanese attack. He asked Inglis if any German submarines or surface vessels were in those waters and the Admiral said he thought not.

Inglis testified that the heavy cruiser Pensacola was conveying eight ships west bound. He did not mention the makeup of the other convoy.

Ferguson asked Inglis to obtain information on the whereabouts at that time of the cruiser Boise, which the Michigan Senator indicated he thought was conveying a number of ships, including the merchantman, American Leader.

Ferguson questioned Inglis about the preparation of his statement before the committee yesterday. Inglis gave them what he described as follows:

Philippine Court Would Halt Trial Of Gen. Yamashita

Styer Ignores Order That He Show Cause Why Habeas Corpus Is in Error

Manila, Nov. 16 (AP)—The prosecution's war-crimes case against Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita entered its final phase today with a Japanese admiral on the stand.

Whether a Philippines Supreme Court order can be allowed to halt the trial meanwhile was referred to General MacArthur.

Lt. Gen. Wilhelm D. Styer, commander of Army forces in the Western Pacific, continued to ignore a Commonwealth court order that he show cause why a writ of habeas corpus should not be issued on Yamashita's behalf. Effect of such a writ would be to take the case from the hands of the military commission now hearing it.

Vice Adm. Denshichi Okochi, commander of Japanese naval forces in the Southwest Pacific areas a year ago when the battle for the Philippines entered its climactic stages testified today that the Japanese Army—not the Navy—issued tactical orders at Manila while atrocities for which the prosecution blames Yamashita occurred.

Chief Prosecutor Maj. Robert Kerr said he hoped to finish his case Saturday. Defense testimony is expected to require several weeks.

Styer has been unavailable for comment and so far has not accepted service of the Philippines court summons—inquiries of his whereabouts unfailingly get an "on inspection tour" reply.

Statement Made at Press Conference; Effort Is to Prevent Bloodshed

Batavia, Nov. 16 (AP)—Hubertus J. Van Mook, acting governor general of the Netherlands East Indies, called upon the new Indonesian Nationalist cabinet tonight to meet him in an informal discussion at the earliest possible moment, in an effort to save Indonesia from further bloodshed and threatened famine.

Van Mook made his statement at a press conference at a time when Indonesian resistance was officially reported to be slackening at battered Soerabaja before the assault of tanks, guns and planes of the slowly advancing British Indian troops.

The acting governor general expressed disappointment that the Indonesians had been unable to attend a meeting last night under the chairmanship of Lt. Gen. Sir Philip Christison, Allied commander in the N.E.I., and said it was imperative in the interests of Indonesia as a whole that both sides cooperate to keep order and prevent the economic ruin of Java.

An official British summary today said there was "nothing to report" on the situation at Soerabaja.

A summary of yesterday's fighting said the resistance of the 15,000 Indonesians in Soerabaja "decreased" as the Indian troops expanded the area under their control. Indonesian sniping and sporadic mortar fire continued.

Kingston's Part in Dental Decay Tests Is Planned

Plans for Kingston's participation in the Kingston-Newburgh fluorine 10-year test under the supervision of the State Health Department, were made Thursday evening at the city hall when 19 members of the Kingston Public Health Nursing Committee met. Dr. John F. Larkin, health officer, presided at the meeting.

The 10-year plan was explained by Dr. Berwyn Mattison, district state health officer, who told how 500 children from this city will take part in the test.

Dr. Sidney Finn, senior dentist of the state department, reported that fluorine study may show one way to help decrease dental decay in the future. Since about 65 per cent of children under 14 years of age have decayed teeth, dental care, he said, was a public health problem.

Examination of children who entered the test, was explained by D. E. Overton, pediatrician of the state department. He said that the proposed study was approved by the local medical and dental societies.

Miss Gladys Weber, supervising nurse in charge of the survey of the health department, planned it.

Yanks Mail Destroyed

Frankfurt, Nov. 16 (AP)—Four thousand pounds of mail en route to American soldiers in Germany from the United States was destroyed last Saturday when a C-47 transport plane crashed and burst near Chateau Thierry, U. S. Army officials announced today. Another 800 pounds of mail was salvaged. All four crew members died in the crash.

Pictures Offer Interesting Mystery for U. S. Officers

Frankfurt, Nov. 16 (AP)—Pictures of Eva Braun, Hitler and a baby girl identified only as "Udda," discovered in an album tucked away with Eva's fabulous personal treasure, posed an interesting mystery today for American intelligence officers, who hinted that the full story of the treasure was yet to be told.

The treasure chest was found yesterday—precisely where was a secret.

The announcement called Eva Hitler's supposed wife. There had been reports that the couple had at least one child, although British intelligence investigators had concluded that Hitler and Eva were married only the day before they were believed to have died together in the chancellery of burning Berlin.

Besides thousands of dollars in American bills, valuable jewelry and a hoard of extremely valuable silver, there was a diary, evidently Eva's, which referred frequently to her "undying love" for Hitler.

Her pictures showed herself, Hitler and the blonde baby girl in many poses, from the child's infancy until she appeared to be about three years old in the last snapshots dated 1941. Often the line written under the picture would read "And here is Udda again." But there was no further identification.

Also in the find was the uniform Hitler wore on July 31, 1944, when an attempt was made on his life. It was blood-stained and tattered. The coat was the one which led to the discovery. A German officer had told a friend he knew where the uniform was, and questioning of this officer resulted in the finding of Eva's treasures.

Scouts Will Collect Paper on Saturday

Last Saturday Scouts of Troops 3, 8 and 1 gathered a total of 19-200 pounds of waste paper and 55 pounds of rags in Wards 2 and 3.

Saturday, November 17, the waste paper drive will be held in Wards 1 and 12, at which time Troops 6, 7 and 11 will participate.

The residents of these two wards are requested to have paper out at the curb before 9 a. m., because there can be no call-backs for paper put out later than that time.

In 1870 there were 70,000 pupils in the American high schools. Today there are 7,000,000.

Kingston Still Has Critical Shortage In Milk Supply

Kingston is still confronted with a critical shortage of milk, it was said today by Dr. James C. Crandall, city milk inspector, who pointed out that no relief was in sight until possibly the first of January. Despite the shortage, which is statewide, the local milk dealers are still continuing home deliveries.

Dr. Crandall pointed out that in order to conserve milk for home delivery there had been a drastic cut in the supply of milk furnished the city's stores.

"If the situation grows much worse," said the milk inspector, "it is possible that it will be necessary to cut the amount of milk supplied to customers in the home deliveries."

The fact that Kingston was facing a critical milk shortage was pointed out earlier in the month by Dr. Crandall in a report made at the monthly meeting of the Board of Health.

The supply began to become limited the latter part of October, and Dr. Crandall at that time expressed the opinion that the situation would continue for at least 60 days.

Not only is the milk supply greatly reduced in Kingston but the shortage is reported to be statewide.

Culbertson Says Time Is Short to Decide on A-Bomb

'One Per Cent of Devils' Could Destroy Us, He Tells Dinner Club Assembly

Ely Culbertson, outstanding figure in the world of contract bridge, demonstrated to 200 members of the Kingston National Dinner Club, gathered at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday night for their third dinner meeting, that bridge is far from being his main interest in life, and that he is entitled to be classed as a keen student of economics and national and international relations.

He told his hearers that he had not given up contract bridge—“18,000,000 bridge players have kept me in comfort,” he said—but the truth was that he had gone into contract bridge after a life-long study of social systems and that still engages much of his time and thought.

In discussing world affairs, with reference particularly to the welfare of the United States, the speaker, whose mother was the daughter of a Cossack General, has spent much time abroad and said that he had some of the advantage of the person who is “on the outside looking in.” In considering questions that involve the thoughts and acts of people of other nations.

Mr. Culbertson said that following the “atomic revolution era,” now barely four months old, we are now in the most devastating era of all that have elapsed during the history of the world.

The speaker painted the possibilities of the atomic bomb in lurid colors. There is no escape from it; it can come from anywhere, he said. He continued, there is no escape through a spiritual uplifting, for there are always “one per cent of devils;” there is no escape in time—for we have no time. “Ten years is the maximum of our time—really we have but three or four years, at the most, before we lose it away from us.”

“The United States was declared to be today ‘the mightiest nation of all time and the most peaceful,’ but also ‘public enemy No. 1 of all the ideological schemers.’”

Says U. S. Is Vulnerable Despite its strength, the speaker found, this country vulnerable to the atomic bomb. He spoke of the ease with which a few men, with little luggage, could visit cities of this country, set timed atomic bombs in hotels, and then leave with little fear of discovery. He saw the possibility of simultaneous destruction of 20 or 30 American cities, with appalling loss of life, through such a method.

Against all this there was seen to be “no escape in cooperation alone” in a world “where only military power rules,” where “fear is supreme in a world of power politics.” Mr. Culbertson declared that “agreements and promises are not a source of trust.”

Referring to the United Nations agreement, the speaker spoke of it as “an organization which has no armed force, which cannot even discuss aggression.” He spoke of the effect that morning to the road to “appeasement,” and said that “to turn everything over to the United Nations organization means turning it over to nothing. It means that we are going to fritter away our time.”

Mr. Culbertson saw one way out from the “unheard of, unparalleled and terrifying possibilities” of the atomic bomb and other scientific discoveries. “The one hope, he declared, is that ‘all these scientific weapons can be controlled by a proper international organization.” The speaker proposed that the present framework of the United Nations organization be retained, with three basic amendments. These would provide for:

A Security Council of 10 members—two each from the United States, Great Britain, Russia, and two from the smaller nations; one from France and one from China. Later Germany and Japan would be included. A majority vote of the council would be sufficient to take action.

Provision for the complete inspection of all production of scientific weapons, fixing maximum production of heavy armament throughout the world and the abolishment of the use of atomic energy for war forever, any violator to be made an outlaw.

Establishment of an international police force. This would consist of one international contingent, made up of volunteers, highly trained and highly paid men, to be recruited from the citizens of the smaller states; five national contingents made up of the present armed forces of the five nations. The five national contingents would operate as a reserve, with their size limited by the authorized production of war weapons.

It was nearly 10 o'clock before Mr. Culbertson finished his lengthy exposition. After a brief recess he was kept busy for a considerable time longer answering questions propounded by members of his audience. Asked what could be done to help further the plan, Mr. Culbertson advised the formation of “atomic committees,” to study the question, agree on the amendments suggested, or some others, and then do what they could to exert influence upon legislators to take action.

The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, president of the National Dinner Club group, presided during the evening. The opening invocation was given by the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool. It was announced that the next dinner meeting would be held on the evening of December 12.

Without Indonesian opposition and began rounding up Japanese at Padang and Palembang. The dispatch said “it is hoped a second Java will be prevented.”

(In Amsterdam the newspaper Algemeen Handelsblad reported that W. F. L. Van Bylandt had left for Indonesia on orders of the Dutch government to serve as diplomatic and political adviser to the Netherlands East Indies acting governor general, Hubertus J. Van Mook. At The Hague, high government officials denied reports that Prince Bernhard would go to the Indies for negotiations on behalf of The Crown.)

It was believed that British diplomacy, now geared to a temporary settlement of the dispute, contemplates in its long range view a regional commission of Britain, Australia, New Zealand and the United States to serve either as arbitrators or trustees.

Foretaste of Winter Albany, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Snowfall ranging from three inches in the Adirondacks to a flurry in Albany gave New York state a foretaste of winter today. Temperatures dropped sharply throughout the state. The Weather Bureau forecast continued cloudy, cold weather, with, intermittent rain or snow showers.

To Observe Holiday Michael Matlia of the Artistic Beauty Salon, 44 North Front street, said today that all of the beauty shops in the city would remain open on Monday, but would be closed on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day.

Eisenhower Says Another Emergency Might Come Unless Power Is Retained

Continued from Page One and yet lost the war, Eisenhower replied: “The facts are that Germany never had such a single department or even unity of direction except in the Fuehrer himself.”

“On the contrary, the Luftwaffe was recommended by Reichsmarshal Goering, who was second only to Hitler, and the successful chiefs of the German general staff were never able to achieve anything approaching unity of direction of the three components of the Nazi fighting machine. “One of the major contributing factors to the Nazi defeat was the utter lack of unified direction over the Luftwaffe and the Wehrmacht.”

“There is no such thing as a separate land, sea or air war; therefore we must now recognize this fact by establishing a single department of the armed forces.”

cribed as a factual account of the actual Japanese attack.

The developed that some portions of the original draft of the testimony had been deleted by the Navy judge advocate general's office and after consultation with counsel for the investigating committee.

Ingis testified that as a result of these suggestions he had cut out a paragraph which he said suggested that the nation as a whole was not unified before Pearl Harbor. He said he thought this had contributed to lack of preparedness on the part of the Army and Navy.

“Do you think the people were to blame for Pearl Harbor?” Ferguson demanded, noting that President Truman had made a somewhat similar statement in releasing Army and Navy reports on their investigations of the disaster.

“My opinion is that that did contribute somewhat to Pearl Harbor,” the witness replied.

The committee opened its formal hearings yesterday with testimony of army and navy witnesses on the actual attack made by the Japanese at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941. Today the committee was promised by Chairman Barkley (D., Ky.) a review of the Japanese version of the attack. This was to be furnished by the army and navy witnesses, Rear Adm. T. B. Inglis and Col. Bernard Thielens, from captured Japanese documents.

Before a crowd jammed into every corner of the committee room, Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.) drove the point at the point that Adm. Harold P. Stark, then chief of naval operations, had ordered Hawaii-bound shipping rerouted to the south almost two weeks before the Japanese attack.

Known Year Before Attack There remained little doubt, after yesterday's presentation of the intercepted Japanese messages, that official Washington knew Japan was on the verge of going to war.

From January, 1941, eleven months before the attack, the United States armed forces had been intercepting and decoding Japanese military messages. They had broken the Japanese diplomatic code by August 8, 1941, and Tokyo's instructions to its representatives in the world's capitals were being read by Americans.

It was in this flood of messages that Nomura's report on his conversation with the cabinet officer stood out, among these others:

The Japanese were reporting in detail the movements of the U. S. Pacific fleet and continued it until the day before the attack.

They ordered their code books and machines destroyed December 2.

They apparently believed that the United States and Great Britain were preparing to occupy the Netherlands East Indies and they were prepared to attack in that area.

The Japanese told their Axis allies as early as the last week in November that negotiations with the United States were broken off and got German and Italian promises to join with them if they went to war against the Americans.

The record of messages laid before the committee was many which indicated that Tokyo had instructed its “peace” ambassadors to play for time while the Japanese task force already was steaming toward Pearl Harbor.

Nomura and Kurusu were told by Tokyo in a November 28 message the navy translated the same day that the negotiations with the United States actually were being broken off, but told them not to give that impression here.

On December 1, the Japanese here asked Tokyo whether it would be possible to arrange a conference at Honolulu between Vice President Wallace, or Harry Hopkins, representing the United States, and former Premier Konoye for Japan.

“We realize, of course,” their message said, “that an attempt to have President Roosevelt and former Premier Konoye meet, failed.”

Tokyo told Berlin on November 30, 1941, in a message translated here December 1 that negotiations with the United States “now stand ruptured-broken.”

“In the face of this our empire faces a grave situation and must act with determination,” said the message, which asked the Japanese ambassador to arrange for talks with Hitler and German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop.

In the same message in which Nomura told of his conversation with the unnamed cabinet officer, the ambassador also reported he had sent Frederick Moore, legal adviser to the Japanese embassy in Washington, to interview both Senator Elbert Thomas (D., Utah) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Secretary Hull.

Moore brought back this report: “The United States is not bluffing. If Japan invades again, the United States will fight with Japan. Psychologically the American people are ready. The navy is prepared and ready for action.”

May Be Discharged Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The War Department announced today that all army enlisted men with three or more children under the age of 18 will be discharged upon request. This was one of several changes in discharge regulations which the department said will release an additional 250,000 persons. In addition to a slight reduction in point scores for discharge of enlisted men and officers and enlisted men effective Dec. 1, the changes: Provide for length of service, regardless of age, as a discharge factor; and release of all married Wacs, both officers and enlisted women who enlisted prior to May 12, 1942.

King Says Navy Could Not Engage In Major Battle

Rate of Demobilization Has Cut Effectiveness of Force, He Says to Committee

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Navy's chief of operations told a congressional committee today that the United States Navy is not now prepared to fight a major battle if it were necessary to do so.

The statement was made by Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King in response to questions by House Military Committee members after he had endorsed universal military training legislation.

King had commented that the rate of demobilization of the Navy had resulted in disintegration of units.

Asked by Rep. Leroy Johnson (R., Calif.) if the disorganization was such as to render the Navy unable “to fight a major battle” immediately if necessary, King replied:

“I'm afraid I will have to say ‘yes’ to that question.” The Navy, the admiral said, is not “the going concern” it had expected to be because of speedy demobilization and “it is more or less disintegrated.”

“I don't want to be taken too literally on that,” he cautioned, “but I don't know any other way to express it.”

Many key men in units have been demobilized, the admiral explained, and have not been replaced. While fighting units must be up to their usual complement in actual numbers of men, he pointed out, these complements do not constitute what the Navy knows as “ships companies.”

Earlier King told the committee the atomic bomb in its present form “cannot prevent fleets from operating.”

Skim Ice Forms in City As Thermometers Drop Typical chilly November weather continued to prevail in Kingston today with the official city thermometer recording 34 degrees at 1 o'clock this morning, while thermometers in other sections of the city registered much lower. Skim ice formed during the night here.

Since the first of the month there have been nine rainy days in the city, with a total precipitation of 1.99 inches. Beginning last Friday night rain fell daily up to and through Wednesday with a total fall for the seven days of 1.45 inches.

Temperatures yesterday in the city, according to the readings of the official thermometer, ranged from a low of 34 degrees in the morning to a high of 43 degrees in the afternoon.

In Memoriam In memory of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Ida Nelson who departed two years ago today, November 16, 1943.

The moon and stars are shining, Upon a lonely grave, There sleeps our loved one, We tried so hard to save, I'd be lonely here without you, And sad the weary way, For life is just a heartache, Dear mother, since you were called away.

What is home without a mother? All things the world may send But when we lost our loved one We lost our dearest friend. Sadly missed by HUSBAND, DAUGHTERS and SONS MEMORIAM In memory of our mother, Mrs. Fredericka Studt, who departed this life seven years ago today, November 16, 1938.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance, Just a memory fond and true, Just a token of affection, And a heartache still for you. Just a sigh for the olden moments, Just a sigh of love anew, Just a tear in silence falling, And a yearning just for you.

Signed Daughter, MRS. GEO. C. BODE Sons, ALBERT and JOHN STUDD

MEMORIAM In loving memory of our dear son and brother Pvt. Joseph Moehlich, Jr., who was killed one year ago today in France, November 16, 1944.

Though his sweet smile is gone forever, Tears of love cannot wake him, He lives with us in memory.

De Roos Outlines Conservation Plan To Kiwanis Club

Anthony W. DeRoos, district game protector in charge of the Kingston office of the Conservation Department, held the interest of Kiwanians Thursday as he discussed various phases of the conservation program. Mr. DeRoos said that there was plenty of interest in conservation for everybody, whether or not he was one of those who take to the field. The speaker expressed surprise at the attitude against law enforcement taken by many people. "I was a little amazed at conditions when I came to this district last February," he said. Mr. DeRoos found that there was a general trend today toward better public relations work. He said that he felt that 75 per cent of the work done should be of that nature.

Illustrating the difficulty of enforcing laws aimed to conserve the supply of fish and game, Mr. DeRoos noted that at present he had 11 men to cover the five counties in this district — just about a skeleton force.

It was stated that an increase of about 60 cents for license fees is being advocated. For years, Mr. DeRoos said, New York state, with its heavy demands and with license fees about the cheapest of any, had been "trying to do too much with too little." One-third of the money from license fees is being taken for enforcement purposes.

The speaker discussed the business aspect of conservation work. Reference was made to the big Hudson river shad industry and what it meant in a business sense. The deer hunting season also has its business side, with about 3,000 deer taken in the entire Catskill region, while for every deer taken eight licenses are issued. As an illustration of what this might mean Mr. DeRoos said that in California it had been estimated that for every dollar spent for licenses $100 were spent for other articles connected with the quest for game. The speaker said that he had been surprised to find no active game club here and no guides association. My interest, he said, is to develop backing and support for such movements.

Declaring that more fish and game can be produced in this area, Mr. DeRoos saw need for developing a respect for efforts to lessen violations of the conservation laws. "Everyone caught means increased possibilities for game," he said, adding, "This community should produce more game—and that means more business."

Sport is dependent upon the people in the area; the supply of fish and game is dependent upon the people in the community, it was stated. Making court appearances expensive was said to be a deterrent to law violations.

Have Had Good Backing
Repeating, "I can't see why enforcement is unpopular," Mr. DeRoos said that "we have some good backing," and he told of an incident in which one household heard a shot as he was at his breakfast table. He went out and found that a hunter had shot his pet pheasant. Enraged, the man seized an $80 gun the hunter was carrying and proceeded to smash it against a fence post.

Mr. DeRoos answered a number of questions put to him. As to the shortage of partridges, he said that the birds seemed to flourish in cycles, but as to just what caused the scarcity he could not say; many theories had been advanced. Asked about the licensed number of pheasants, Mr. DeRoos gave as his personal opinion that the major damage was done by foxes. The reduction in area cultivated land might have had an effect and it was possible that the two-week season for hunting pheasants had proved to be more than the supply of birds could stand. As against the theory that pheasants had perished from cold, the speaker said that the department had held birds at below zero temperature for 29 days without killing them.

At the business session President Stout announced that Kiwanis would meet on Wednesday next week, because of the Thanksgiving holiday. Kingston Kiwanians were urged to attend the 25th anniversary of Poughkeepsie Kiwanis at the Nelson House next Tuesday evening. The Poughkeepsie Club sponsored Kingston Kiwanis, not long after their own organization.

Turkey Will Make Biggest Bow in 4 Years

Chicago, Nov. 16 (AP) — Tom Turkey, absent from many of the nation's holiday festive boards in wartime, will be available in large quantities as the piece de resistance for the first peace-time Thanksgiving dinner in four years.

There are millions of turkeys—this year's enlarged crop totaled 44,150,000—and there will be plenty available in almost every section of the country for next Thursday's holiday feast. The crop is 22 per cent greater than a year ago and 44 per cent more than the 10-year average.

Dr. Cliff D. Carpenter, Institute president, said more of the large turkeys are available for civilian consumption than last year. He suggested that small families who cannot obtain lightweight birds buy "split" turkeys. Large turkeys often prove too big for one family, he said, but sharing the white meat between two families works nicely.

Ulster Grange will sponsor its regular Go-to-Church Sunday service in the Ulster Park Reformed Church on Sunday evening, Nov. 18, at 8 o'clock. This will be the annual Thanksgiving service participated in by the congregations of the Port Ewen Reformed and Methodist Churches, the Episcopal Church, West Park Episcopal Church, St. Remy Reformed Church and Union Center chapel.

Mr. and Mrs. John Finerty spent Sunday at North Hampton, Mass. Richard C. Gendreau of New York city spent the week-end with his family at the home of H. V. Story.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Savastano and children of Providence, R. I., were recent guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Winfield.

Earle Terwilliger, Jr., of New York spent the week-end with his parents here.

Ulster Juvenile Grange, 542, held its meeting Saturday afternoon in the Community Hall with 18 members and two honorary members present. Refreshments were served by Mrs. James Michaleides and Mrs. H. V. Story. Three new members were initiated.

Long Haul

Kansas City, Nov. 16 (AP)—When Sheila Rogers finished her song and impersonation act in a local night club she was greeted by a good-lucking boy.

"Do you remember me?" he asked.

"A fine thing," her questioner sniffed. "I carried you in the mud from your stage to a jeep when you were entertaining for the soldiers in Italy, near Naples. The haul was a pretty long one, too."

TOO MUCH MONEY BOTHERS

Australia's resettlement agency is a bit embarrassed by the phenomenal success of its campaign to raise $800,000 to establish a returned soldiers' club in Sydney.

Somewhat or other the public got the idea that a rehabilitation center was also part of the plan and when the returns were all in, there was $1,600,000 on hand. An application has been made to the courts for direction as to disposal of the million dollar surplus.

Eat Herring Bread
Berlin, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Berlin press published this recipe today as one of a series of helpful hints to harassed housewives:

"Herring-flavored bread: Take herring head, remove eyes, boil head with bones, strain off liquid and mix with flour, adding salt and vinegar to taste. This should be served with onion rings or chopped turnip to get the full effect."

Judicial Santa Claus
Chicago, Nov. 16 (AP)—Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe has put an official stamp of approval on Santa Claus.

Judge Igoe authorized the trustees of the Chicago Surface Lines, which is in receivership in his court, to send $10 to each of the 1,578 employees still in the army and navy.

The servicemen will get the checks for Christmas.

Twin Bill

Anchorage, Alaska, Nov. 16—The situation is puzzling to Anchorage residents and worrisome to city councilmen who may have to pay employees overtime on two days, but nobody is giving in. Anchorage will have two Thanksgivings.

President Truman and Gov. Ernest Gruening have selected Nov. 22. Mayor John E. Manders has proclaimed Nov. 29 as Anchorage's Thanksgiving Day.

"If the federal government can't convert," quoth the mayor, "I can."

Goals to Newcastle
Seattle, Nov. 16 (AP)—Ornulf Paulsen has arrived in Seattle from Oslo, Norway, to buy salmon. He represents a firm which exports mild cured Norwegian salmon.

The explanation: "We export our own salmon because we have a good world market for it and thus it is too valuable to be consumed locally."

Valid Excuse
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 16 (AP)—Maj. W. R. Roberts, in the South Pacific wrote a letter to Police Chief J. T. Carroll and explained why he was tardy in paying a fine.

Esopus Legion Plans Card Party For November 27

A meeting of Esopus Township Post 2298 of the American Legion was held at St. Leo's Hall, Port Jervis, Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. Commander P. J. Belcher opened the meeting and the invocation was given by State Veterans Counselor Waldron DuMont who acted as chaplain. The main topic brought up in the meeting was the card party which the Post plans to hold November 27 at the Penguin. Publicity Chairman George Hard asked all members to keep him informed on matters pertaining to the party and said he had arranged for several professional entertainers to be present at the affair.

A number of ideas for future activities of the new legion post were advanced. It was suggested that Christmas greetings and gifts be sent to Esopus township veterans now in hospitals; also, that an effort be made to get those who could be moved home for Christmas visits. The organization of a basketball team was suggested. A Christmas party of Esopus township was proposed. The post was invited to organize a dart team to enter township fire department Dart Ball League.

Commander Belcher appointed standing committees as follows:

"McPARTLON'S" the name...

"O.K." McPartlon

because I like to say, "O.K." You can have the money.

"And I live up to that 'O.K.' nickname, too... by saying 'O.K.' to just as many loan applications as I can. Making personal loans from $30 to $300 is what we're in business for. Thus, when I can make you happy with an O.K., I'm happy, too. So, stop in next time you need ready cash. You'll find us eager to give you friendly, fast, O.K. service. Our terms of repayment are liberal."

Delegates to the county organization were elected, Commander Belcher and Edward Eckert being the ones designated.

A report by Post Finance Officer Fred Schoonmaker disclosed that the organization is in a healthy financial condition. "Since many of the members had never met each other, Commander Belcher asked each to rise in turn and as they did so he introduced them to the rest of those present, giving a brief running resume of their service activities. Members were pleased with this idea and amazed at the commander's memory for detail.

At the close of the meeting, the members signed the charter and then enjoyed a cold buffet supper and coffee provided by Post Activities Chairman Bob Doyle.

DuMont Says Consumers Realize Value of Milk

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Noting increases in the demand for fluid milk, State Agricultural Commissioner Chester C. DuMont says "consumers are beginning to realize the bargain value of milk and the food value it gives."

DuMont told delegates to the 16th annual convention of the New York State Milk Distributors' Association yesterday that in the western New York area, the demand for fluid milk had increased 52 per cent in September, over September, 1940; in Rochester, 30 per cent, and in the New York area, 19.5 per cent.

"Right now," he asserted, "we are working to increase production in the fall, making a more equitable year-round production."

Try Hot Water Plus If Stomach Pains You After Eating--

Thousands of unfortunate people suffer from so-called dyspepsia, acid indigestion, food fermentation, sour stomach, acid stomach, flatulence, gas pains and other stomach distress brought on by excess acid.

If these people would try drinking slowly after each meal half a glass of real hot water containing a spoonful of Neutradol, they can usually get blessed relief from distress within a very few minutes.

Neutradol will quickly help to neutralize this excess acid and thus help more rapid digestion. You get quick relief from the acute distress and discomfort.

TWINE SAVE BATHERS

Twin brothers, 35 years old, who have won many swimming trophies in South Africa, teamed up to rescue a drowning man in the Bloemfontein bath, according to a dispatch from Potchefstroom, their home. M. Oliver dived into the bath and failed to resurface. The brothers John and Henry Popper, who were wearing Stumme Society badges, found him on the bottom of the tank and revived him by means of artificial respiration.

Swiss Would Join Organization, but Remain Neutral

Bern, Switzerland, Nov. 16 (AP)—

The Swiss government commission appointed to study the United Nations Charter reported today that Switzerland "could not afford to remain out of a worldwide organization which has for its purpose the maintenance of world peace."

Switzerland's position as a neutral would have to be maintained, however, the report said. It was presented by the Swiss foreign secretary, Dr. Max Petitpierre.

Objections to Swiss membership in the United Nations had been raised earlier on the ground the pledge of U.N.O. members to maintain world peace by force of arms if necessary could not be reconciled with Switzerland's traditional neutrality.

Grand Jurors Dine At Schoentag's Hotel

The Association of Grand Jurors of Ulster county met at Schoentag's Hotel, on 9-W, Wednesday night for their 10th annual dinner. Attendance, composed of members from every section of the county, was the largest since the association was formed in 1934.

Following the serving of a turkey dinner, Matthew F. Van Tassel, president of the Association since its organization, cordially greeted those present and then presented Vincent G. Connelly, assistant district attorney, who presided as toastmaster.

County Attorney Frederick H. Stang was presented as the first speaker and introduced a proper amount of humor into the occasion, interspersed with some more serious reflections.

The main speaker of the evening was the Hon. Lee Thompson Smith, president of the Association of Grand Jurors of New York county, and also president of the Lawyers Title Corporation of New York.

Mr. Smith reviewed the unforgettable story of the New York "runaway" grand jury of some years ago. It was found to be an absorbing story of how questionable politicians and unscrupulous plotters obtained a strangle hold upon the city and how greed met its finish.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

SOCIETIES • CLUBS • PERSONALS

Frank Mason Speaks To Business Girls, Jr. Married Women

The Junior Married Women's Club of the Y. W. C. A. were the guests of the Business and Professional Girls' Club at their weekly meeting last evening at the "Y". Frank W. Mason, principal of the Saugerties High School was the speaker. His topic was "Keeping Abreast of the Times."

In his talk Mr. Mason divided his subject into three topics: "Where Have We Been?", "Where Are We Now?" and "Where Are We Going?" In respect to the first topic he left America in fact with an unimpaired and unimpaired enemy. She has won a peace for which she is unprepared and have Invented a power of which she is afraid. The war has proved that free peoples are the best soldiers and it has given them a chance to show their ingenuity. They have discovered resources within themselves which they never knew they had but they have paid for these discoveries by the great depletion of natural resources.

The second topic of his speech led Mr. Mason to believe that Americans are victors without sacrifice and therefore have not yet learned their lesson. They have learned a few points, such as rationing, which has tended to equalize living for all people, rich and poor and the principle of conservation of men and wealth. They have not sacrificed enough to learn the conservation of labor as the other countries have done. They now have a hopeful but confused foreign policy and domestic problems are great. The war was won too easily and Americans are trying to get back to normalcy too quickly. Mr. Mason believes that many of those who were killed are already forgotten.

In regard to the third problem of "Where Are We Going," the speaker believes the domestic problem of making democracy work is of utmost importance. The racial question which is becoming constantly more important must be solved. To really settle this particular problem Americans will either have to eliminate as Hitler did or to accept them as true equals but shall probably do neither. The Communist infiltration in this country is great and a lot of honorable groups are being used by the Communists as a front. Through fear of this group the country may swing to Fascism as the people do not seem to learn except by actually experiencing conditions.

The speaker also believes the United States has changed from a liberal democracy to one of the most conservative of nations. The foreign policy is now all-important and must have a definite, realistic policy and well-trained men to carry it out. In respect to the world organization, America must be prepared to give up some sovereignty or stand alone. With respect to this organization America holds the key, as the other countries have suffered so terribly in this war they are prepared to respect such an organization. Mr. Mason also believes America must return to the old virtues of integrity with individual enterprise and a clear social consciousness. Following the talk the club held their business meetings and then enjoyed a social hour. There will be no Business Girls meeting next week since it is so near the Thanksgiving holiday.

Music Group Studies Forms Of Symphony Composition

The Music Appreciation Group of the Y. W. C. A. Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Albert Salzmunn, 169 North Manor avenue, Thursday afternoon. The program on the formal development of the symphony was given by Ruth Holmes Bird.

She spoke of the songforms used in the traditional musical forms speaking of the rondo and sonata which was defined as a long composition for solo instruments in several distinct sections known as movements, each movement being a definite musical form. The symphony is a sonata type composition for full orchestra. She explained that the first movement is always in a highly characteristic form known as sonata allegro and has been used by all composers of symphony since his day. The form was explained in a diagram on a blackboard and illustrated in the first movement of Mozart's "Jupiter Symphony." Mrs. Bird pointed out that a composer has a choice of forms to use and that Haydn and Mozart made use of the minuet. Beethoven excelled in the theme and variations type of composition and used this form for several movements in the symphony on sonata. After Beethoven the composers were more free in the formal structure of the sonata type work. Frank introduced the cyclic form having a theme from the first movement in each succeeding movement. The program was concluded with the "Finale" from Shostakovich's "First Symphony."

Mrs. Alfred Schmid and Mrs.

Eugene Pemberton assisted the hostess by pouring. The next meeting will be the Christmas program when the group will meet with the Women's Club at the Y. W. C. A. December 18. Mrs. Raymond Woodard and Mrs. Salzmunn will have charge of the program which will be a study of Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

Football Selections

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—Crawling out on the football limb for another batch of predictions: Army-Penn: Army Coach Red Blaik fears Penn but he is the Cadets' confidence may be their undoing but this corner sees them winning by a comfortable margin. Army, three touchdowns; Tech, Tech's lack of a first-rate passer will prove costly but it should be the day's thriller in the Southeast Conference, Louisiana State. St. Mary's U.C.L.A.: Each started the season with an outstanding back—Herman Wedemeyer at St. Mary's and Carl Rossi at U.C.L.A. Wedemeyer still is with the Gaels but the Navy transferred Rossi to Harvard St. Mary's. Purdue-Michigan: The Wolverines bow only to previously unbeaten teams and Purdue was pulled by Northwestern. Michigan, a Wisconsin-Navy: The revamped Middle backfield, which last week romped over Michigan, is set for another carnival. Texas A. & M.-Rice: Jess Neely's teams invariably are at their toughest in November but the Aggies shape up as just a little better than the Owls can handle. Temple-Holy Cross: Temple's bowl chances were glimmering last Saturday in its loss to Penn State and the club is out for revenge against another bowl candidate. But no luck. Holy Cross. Oklahoma-Missouri: The home field gives the Tigers what edge there is in this Big Six title fray. Notre Dame-Northwestern: The Irish return to teams of their own class and are favored despite the rapid improvement of the young Wildcats. Notre Dame. Auburn-Georgia: Charlie Trippi is set to move in this one. Georgia, Columbia-Princeton: Princeton's

NATION'S LEADING JOCKEY

Job Dean Jessop, 19, (above) from Nibley, Utah, is the leading jockey of the country this year. At Sportsman's Park, Chicago, he had two successive four-winner days and was up on a total of 53 winners at the meeting. (AP Wirephoto).

New York State Bettors Lay $48,500,000 on Horses

By SID FEDER
New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—It cost the horse players of New York $48,500,000, plus a few loose thousands, to go on the fanciest betting spree in all racing history this year.

Kirkwood Goes Over Mobile Links In 4 Under Par

By HENDRIX CHANDLER
Mobile, Ala., Nov. 16 (AP)—Veteran Joe Kirkwood started out today on the second round of the inaugural $10,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament with a slender one-stroke lead, after breezing around the tricky Mobile Country Club layout in a four-under-par 68.

Cards 68 in First Round of Azalea Open; Hogan, Byrd and Shute Next

Right behind the Philadelphia linksman with 69's carded in yesterday's opening round were three consistently good fellow pros who appear to be rounding into top form at this fourth stop on the P.G.A. winter circuit.

Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., Sam Byrd of Detroit and the veteran Denny Shute of Akron, O.

Two strokes back of this threesome in a field of 140 were Pat Cirrelli of White Plains, N. Y., and Arthur Doering of Denver, Colo., with 71's.

Next with five other pros but rated as a dangerous contender for the $2,000 Victory Bond first prize, was Jug McSpaden of Philadelphia, Pa., who turned in a 72.

McSpaden returned to competition here after a month's layoff hunting and resting.

Tied with McSpaden were Felix Serafin, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Stan Horne, Montreal, Canada; Harry Todd, Dallas, Tex., and Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J.

Two top-flight amateurs who won the last two meets on the winter circuit, Lt. Cary Middlecoff and Frank Stranahan, were slightly off its pace in a threatening position.

Middlecoff, a young Memphis, Tenn., Army dentist, was the best of the Simon Purvis with a 73, and Stranahan, powerfully-built Toledo, O., shoemaker, was a stroke back of him with a 74.

Other scores include: Tony Manero, Greenwich, Conn., 73; Joe Turnesa, Rockville Center, N. Y., 73; Clarence Doser, Harrisdale, N. Y., 74.

Predicts Greatest Season Next Year

Saratoga Racing Official Foresees New Record in '46
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—An official of the Saratoga Racing Association predicts the 1946 racing season at Saratoga will be "the greatest x x x we have ever had."

Robert F. Kelley, publicity director for the association, told a Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting last night that he was surprised that there "had ever been any doubt that thoroughbred racing would come back to Saratoga in 1946."

Crescents Win Overtime Tilt From Center Aces by 53-51

Recheck of Scorebook Brings Teams Out of Showers to Settle Tally

In one of the most sensational basketball games of the season at the Y.M.C.A., the Crescents edged out the Center Aces, 53-51, Thursday night.

The Autumn League duel went into an overtime session, following the regulation struggle during which McCordle and Shattan led the Crescents in point scoring, and Thomas, highest individual shot-maker of the night, and Woods showed the way for the Aces.

At the expiration of the regular time, Mike Rienzo, scorekeeper, had the Center Aces winning 45-44. After the clubs went to the showers, he re-checked his records and found the correct tally was 45-44.

Summoned back to the court to settle the issue, the two clubs put on three minutes of real hard play, the Crescents caging four baskets to the Aces' three to pack away the victory.

A change in next week's schedule because of Thanksgiving Day, when the "Y" will remain closed, pits the American Legion against the Cadets on Monday at 7:15 p. m.

The regular Tuesday slate is: Rienzo vs. Center Aces, 7 p. m. Mohawks vs. Crescents, 8 p. m. Perry Buccaneers vs. Ramblers, 9 p. m.

Last night's boxscore:

Weiss Front Man, Yankee Stadium To Be Improved

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—George Weiss is the new front man in the New York Yankee show window after years of behind-the-scenes manipulation of one of baseball's greatest player empires.

Appointment of Weiss to handle all player operations of the parent club and its farm units was part of a general streamlining program announced yesterday by President Larry MacPhail. He disclosed contracts had been signed for lights at the Yankee Stadium, assuring night baseball and probably night football in 1946.

The seating capacity of the stadium will be increased to 90,000 for football and possibly more for fights. New boxes will be installed, a women's lounge will be built on the main floor and a new press box will be constructed.

Baseball for Tokyo

Tokyo, Nov. 16 (AP)—Professional baseball will be resumed November 22, giving Tokyo its first pro game in a year. Picked teams from Tokyo and Osaka will play a two game series.

Warneke Will Join Staff of Umpires

Chicago, Nov. 16 (AP)—Lon Warneke, after 15 seasons in the National League and eight games shy of joining the select circle of pitchers winning 200 games, is planning a new baseball career—as an umpire.

The 36-year-old right hander, one of the league's top hurlers during his service with the Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals, obtained his unconditional release yesterday by the Cubs. His record shows three seasons with 20 or more wins, one no-hitter and five victories in two World Series.

Warneke, who had been a regular in the National League, was surprised that there "had ever been any doubt that thoroughbred racing would come back to Saratoga in 1946."

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AF Foreign Affairs Analyst)
The atomic energy proposal of the United States, Britain and Canada is the most striking peace offer of history.

Had Hitler, even after defeat was trading on his heels, acquired this knowledge and been able to produce atomic bombs, he still could have conquered the world.
And yet the United States, England and Canada, being first in possession of this terrific weapon, are asking other nations to join with them in rendering it innocuous.

Will this offer be accepted? I think a good deal depends on how much suspicion or heart-burning has been developed abroad since the first atomic bomb to be used in war was dropped on Hiroshima.
That's only three months ago, but doubts are like mushrooms—they grow fast.

Of course the proposal is directed mainly towards Russia. It's the old question of Big Three solidarity again. If Moscow agrees, then we can feel assured that the world is rolling along the broad highway of lasting peace. For as the all-powerful Big Three go, so will go the rest of mankind as things now stand.

This is so because, as so often said, the Big Three have the physical strength to enforce peace against all odds. There in its essence we have the real defense against the atomic giant—the prevention of war. President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee and Mackenzie King recognized this principle in their statement when they pointed out that the only complete protection for civilization against the destructive use of scientific knowledge "lies in the prevention of war."

We can pin the thing down even closer than that, for prevention of war depends on a change in the heart of man. We can yell our heads off about peace, and create enough organizations to carpet the whole globe, but all that will matter a tinker's damn if we haven't accepted the Golden Rule as our guiding light.

This obviously is a critical moment. Peace is walking the tightrope. But you know, I believe she will make it. She will unless some fool starts to juggle the rope.

I like General Eisenhower's attitude on this question. Testifying yesterday before the House Military Committee in Washington he declared that if he thought another war was inevitable he wouldn't be there.

"I would have jumped right off of my plane over the Atlantic," he said.

There speaks a great professional soldier. He knows his war from start to finish. He knows better than most do the elements which went into the making of the last war. So it's good to see him take this stand.

2,300 Japs Seize Food From Farmer
Some Leave Money; Rioters Split Into Groups Tokyo, Nov. 16 (AP)—Twenty-three hundred hungry residents of Hokkaido, northernmost Japanese home island, seized food from farmers, storehouses and mills on successive days, the newspaper Asahi reported today. Some of them left money in payment.

The food rioters split into small bands for their forays, the newspaper said. Miners of Shigejiri and Akishira districts paid for the food they seized in a 1,000-person foraging raid November 13. Similar raids by groups totaling 1,300 persons occurred next day, Asahi said.

Nineteen thousand pounds of milled foods were seized.
The rioting was the first reported for many weeks, but government spokesmen here are openly concerned over the possibility of violence in the foodless, fuelless winter ahead.

The government already has appealed to farmers to sell their produce at legal prices, but the lure of black-market profits is strong.

Mrs. Dondero Says Election Is Proof Women Capable

Portsmouth's Mayor Has Been Successful as Candidate Since
Beauty Contest

By MARY ELIZABETH FRIM
Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 16 (AP)— Re-elected by the largest plurality in Portsmouth's history, Mayor Mary R. Dondero, (D.) attractive 51-year old grandmother, told her fellow-citizens:

"This vote shows that the people believe a woman can do a good job in the office of mayor."

Voting for Mrs. Dondero is nothing new in Portsmouth. As a young girl she was elected "Miss Portsmouth of 1918," later, "Miss American Legion" and she won three popularity contests.

Married at 18 to Charles A.
Dondero, a Dartmouth graduate,
she gave all her time to her family until her four daughters were in their teens.

Five times a member of the New Hampshire Legislature, she was elected mayor last December, the first woman in the state to hold the office. Unlike her landslide vote for re-election she won in a recount by seven votes.

When Mayor Dondero took office the normal 15,000 population of this wartime industrial community had soared to 23,000.

Stressing her belief that "the city's business should be an open book," she inaugurated a fortnightly "open house" at the mayor's office.

On the idea of "let's talk it over with mom," she invited the citizens to drop in and discuss their troubles with her, and plans to continue the custom during her new administration.

This turn will be for two years, under a change recently voted in the city charter.

Proud of the fact that 33 women are included in the New Hampshire Legislature, Mayor Dondero says women are successful in politics because "they are inherently conscientious about their duties."

Widowed over a year, Mayor Dondero is a five-times grandmother.

Modest about her latest political victory, she said:
"It was not just a case of seeking another term. If I had not been re-elected I would have felt that I was letting the women down."

British Take Over Krupp Property

Controller Is Appointed to Handle Affairs

Lueneburg, Germany, Nov. 16
(AP)—The British Military Government took over possession and control today of all property owned by the German armaments and steel producing firm of Friedrich Krupp of Essen, its subsidiary and affiliated undertakings.

The military government has appointed a controller with headquarters in the head Krupp office at Essen. He was placed in immediate control of all assets of the Friedrich Krupp plants which are in the British occupation zone.

The present management will be dissolved. Persons holding managerial positions will be required to place themselves at the disposal of the controller and carry on their duties until further notice.

Only yesterday, the provincial government of Saxony in the Russian occupation zone announced the expropriations of the properties in Saxony of the German industrial magnate, Friedrich Flick.

Erie Clerk Gets New One in Bid for Numbers

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Erie County Clerk Harry C. Vackel, in the midst of an annual avalanche of requests for special automobile license numbers, says he's used to petitions for high numbers, low numbers, initials, and addresses—and to remarks that go like this:
"I want E-60 because E stands for my last name and 60 for my age; if I can't have that I'd like something with 1885 in it," or "Could I have B-439 because B stands for birthday and the numbers for my home address."

But as he answered the phone yesterday Vackel leaned back, looked up, and said with a weary smile: "Just think of that. Here's a man who wants the number 1865 because that was the year his grandmother was born."

Troopers Arrest Elmhurst Driver For Theft of Car

Eugene Fallatik, 19, of Elmhurst was picked up yesterday by Corporal Martin and Trooper Division of the Highland State Police barracks at Highland on a charge of stealing a car at Balmbridge, N. Y., on November 14.

Frank Schlafel of Balmbridge reported his 1940 Buick sedan missing and a warning was sent out to State Police to look for the car. Fallatik was driving south along R.W. when the troopers apprehended him.

Corporal Metzger took Fallatik back to headquarters at Sidney and later Fallatik was arraigned before Judge Monroe at Balmbridge and held on a charge of grand larceny, first degree, for grand jury action. He was placed in the Chenango county jail.

U. S. Court Orders Release of 5 Men 'Divinity Students'

Philadelphia, Nov. 16 (AP)—The Third U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals here ordered the discharge of five Fort Dix soldiers inducted early this year when draft boards revoked their classification as "Divinity students."

Four are Brooklyn, N. Y., men: the fifth, Harry Horowitz is from Mount Vernon (180 South 2nd avenue), N. Y.

Judges Albert S. Maris, Herbert F. Goodrich and John J. O'Connell ruled yesterday that local boards are supposed to use their own judgment in fixing classifications. The boards had classified the four plaintiffs 1-A on the recommendation of a panel of theological classifications, the court found.

The judges returned the cases to Judge Thomas M. Mcney of the Federal District Court at Newark with instructions that he grant writs of habeas corpus and direct the army to discharge the five men.

Government Takes Oath

Budapest, Nov. 16 (AP)—The new coalition government formed by Zoltan Tildy, leader of the Smallholders party, took the oath of office in Parliament yesterday. Tildy, becoming premier in place of Col. Gen. Bela Miklos, made a short appearance at the routine ceremony, despite an illness induced by five days' exertion in resolving a deadlock over the Interior Ministry, which finally was given to a Communist.
